Singular hacienda-style country house and cabin, with swimming pools located near an old aqueduct that runs along the Hozgarganta River, just minutes from the picturesque "Pueblo Blanco" of Jimena de la Frontera.

The house was designed by a well-known American architect and built to exacting specifications in the early 1980s and has triple cavity walls and a solid foundation. It is built on two floors with a covered upper terrace and combines true elegance with country charm.

The villa overlooks the river and Alcornocales Natural Park and there are beautiful walks and picnic spots nearby - this is a nature lover's paradise with a variety of flora, fauna, wildlife and birds.

The gardens of this property are a tropical paradise of exotic and rare trees, palms and plants that provide a beautiful backdrop for the pool. Its ancient spring provides a large amount of fresh spring water every day which is used for the garden, natural fountains and a goldfish pond. The very spacious terraces in front of the villa are adorned with a large pergola and a beautiful antique fountain. Behind the house is a garden of organic herbs and fruit trees and there are plenty of ...

About the Zone

Jimena de la Frontera is a small beautiful white town in the hills of the south of Spain. It is denominated a "white town" due to its traditional Spanish architecture with all the houses being painted in white, which make this town shine. Located only 30km away from Sotogrande (or 13km from the nearest beach), you can enjoy a mountain lifestyle with great views and typical local traditions. With a...
